Dear Parents/Guardians

Today girls can choose from the entire world of employment. They can carve a successful career path in future-oriented occupations and, with equally good earning potential, enjoy financial independence.

Yet only a few girls choose this path and there is a tendency - mainly due to a lack of information - to fall back on the most familiar jobs such as sales assistant, office administrator, hairdresser or wig maker, or complete degrees in philosophical/cultural or educational subject areas instead.

The Girls' Day offers your daughter a special opportunity to gain experience in the world of technical, manual and scientific employment and to strengthen existing interests, skills and talents and discover new ones.

On Girls' Day around 60 companies and institutions across the Tyrol will be opening their workshops and laboratories to girls and guiding them through an interactive programme. By participating in Girls' Day your daughter will gain an insight into the wide variety of career options that are available to her, which will help her to make successful career choices.

The Girls' Day, now in its nineteenth year in Tyrol, will take place on 23 April 2020 and is a school-related event. Your daughter is insured during her time at the company.

Please be aware

… that the girls choose individually a technical, manual or scientific career to get to know on Girls' Day and do NOT visit a company as a class group.

… that each business provides at least two places for Girls' Day. This means that at least two girls will be at each company on the day of the event.

How can you support your daughter?

1. Help your daughter to choose a technical, manual or scientific career which she wants to get to know on Girls' Day. From mid-January 2020 you will find information about the careers on the Girls' Day homepage at www.tirol.gv.at/girlsday.

2. Plan the journey to the company/institution she will be visiting together, as well as the journey home. Please note that any travel expenses incurred will not be reimbursed by the organiser.

3. Discuss with your daughter the expectations of Girls’ Day and go through the daily routine of Girls’ Day together.

By preparing thoroughly you will give your daughter confidence so that nothing stands in the way of a day full of new experiences and impressions.
Please complete, sign and return the parental confirmation slip.
