What we provide and offer:

Legal information

Counselling and support for problems within the family

Sustained assistance for families in times of stress or crisis

Protection and help for children experiencing neglect or violence

For more information, visit www.tirol.gv.at/jugendwohlfahrt

Concerns for which we can offer you advice and support:

- Where paternity needs to be established.
- You want to settle on maintenance for your child.
- Your child needs advance payments for maintenance.
- You have evidence that a child in your neighbourhood is neglected or needs protection from violence, and would like young people's welfare to check on the situation.
- You need support over matters of upbringing or sustained assistance to handle family stress and crisis situations.
- Your child needs to cope successfully with the separation/divorce of his parents.
- You have difficulties in finding a suitable care facility for your child.
- You want to foster a child in your family.
- You are considering whether to have your child adopted or if you should adopt a child.

Our concern is to work with you to find the right solutions.

Our staff at your local agency/youth welfare department will be pleased to assist you with these and other concerns!

Our counselling and support are free.

Strong parents make strong children!

We shall be pleased to advise you!